Signing the enclosed Declaration and Power of Attorney, affirms that you are an actual inventor of the subject matter claimed in the above referenced patent application. United States law defines an inventor as any person who conceived of some aspect of the subject matter recited in the claims. If, based on this definition, you do not believe you are an inventor, or if you believe that one or more other persons should be listed as co-inventors, please notify us immediately, as new documents will need to be prepared for your review and signature.

During your review, please bear in mind that the application must disclose your preferred way of carrying out the invention. If special preferred materials or configurations were not mentioned or described, please bring them to our attention.

It is our understanding that the invention has not been patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date that we intend to file this application. If you believe otherwise, please inform us as soon as possible.

In closing, please remember your continuing duty to disclose to the Patent and Trademark Office any information you are aware of that is material to the issuance of your patent application. A search of the prior art is not required, but if you know of any printed publications bearing on your invention, such as articles, prior patent applications, etc., please bring them to our attention. The duty to disclose prior art materials is called a continuing duty because it lasts throughout the entire prosecution of your patent application.

Please note that notarization is not necessary if it is not readily available.

We look forward to receiving your response in due course.

Sincerely,

BLAKELY, SOKOLOFF, TAYLOR & ZAFMAN, LLP

APPENDIX BTitle 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1.56
Duty to Disclose Information Material to Patentability

(a) A patent by its very nature is affected with a public interest. The public interest is best served, and the most effective patent examination occurs when, at the time an application is being examined, the Office is aware of and evaluates the teachings of all information material to patentability. Each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application has a duty of candor and good faith in dealing with the Office, which includes a duty to disclose to the Office all information known to that individual to be material to patentability as defined in this section. The duty to disclose information exists with respect to each pending claim until the claim is cancelled or withdrawn from consideration, or the application becomes abandoned. Information material to the patentability of a claim that is cancelled or withdrawn from consideration need not be submitted if the information is not material to the patentability of any claim remaining under consideration in the application. There is no duty to submit information which is not material to the patentability of any existing claim. The duty to disclose all information known to be material to patentability is deemed to be satisfied if all information known to be material to patentability of any claim issued in a patent was cited by the Office or submitted to the Office in the manner prescribed by §§1.97(b)-(d) and 1.98. However, no patent will be granted on an application in connection with which fraud on the Office was practiced or attempted or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or intentional misconduct. The Office encourages applicants to carefully examine:

(1) Prior art cited in search reports of a foreign patent office in a counterpart application, and

(2) The closest information over which individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application believe any pending claim patentably defines, to make sure that any material information contained therein is disclosed to the Office.

(b) Under this section, information is material to patentability when it is not cumulative to information already of record or being made of record in the application, and

(1) It establishes, by itself or in combination with other information, a prima facie case of unpatentability of a claim; or

(2) It refutes, or is inconsistent with, a position the applicant takes in:

(i) Opposing an argument of unpatentability relied on by the Office, or

(ii) Asserting an argument of patentability.

A prima facie case of unpatentability is established when the information compels a conclusion that a claim is unpatentable under the preponderance of evidence, burden-of-proof standard, giving each term in the claim its broadest reasonable construction consistent with the specification, and before any consideration is given to evidence which may be submitted in an attempt to establish a contrary conclusion of patentability.

(c) Individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application within the meaning of this section are:

(1) Each inventor named in the application;

(2) Each attorney or agent who prepares or prosecutes the application; and

(3) Every other person who is substantively involved in the preparation or prosecution of the application and who is associated with the inventor, with the assignee or with anyone to whom there is an obligation to assign the application.

(d) Individuals other than the attorney, agent or inventor may comply with this section by disclosing information to the attorney, agent, or inventor.
